CERTIFICATE OF COMPLIANCE

This is to certify that the material used in the manufacture of Boltex Mfg Co. forged steel flanges starts with a fully killed billet. Boltex's flanges are manufactured, sample tested and inspected according to requirements of ASME SA105-19/ ASTM A105-21 or ASTM A694-16 and any other specific requirements mentioned in Purchase order.

It is further guaranteed that all Boltex Mfg Co. forged steel flanges marked with B16 or MSS adhere to and comply with all dimensions and tolerances in accordance with specification ASME B16.36-2020, ASME B16.5-2020, ASME B16.47-2020 or ANSI MSS SP-44-2016/2010 as applicable for flanges. Boltex flanges have a surface finish of 125/250 roughness average (Ra) on all full faces and raised face finishes.

All flanges marked A/SA105 or A/SA105N will meet ANSI/NACE MR0175/ ISO 15156-1:2015 and/or ANSI/NACE MR0103/ISO 17495-1:2016.

All flanges bearing the "BOLTEX" name have been manufactured in the U.S.A. at our Houston, Texas facility.
